Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms

Optimizing collaboration across diverse work environments

Talent flows freely across borders, but does our communication keep pace? For enterprises spanning multiple work environments, this question is crucial for maintaining productivity and fostering innovation.

Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms is designed to address this challenge, empowering organizations with traditional, remote or hybrid work models to enhance collaboration, streamline operations and realize the full potential of their global teams.

Scenario

Organization size and scope:
10,000+ employees, global operations

Objective:
Coordinating seamless communication across a global workforce

Global enterprises are poised for greatness, with talent spanning continents and ideas flowing 24/7. But the reality is that coordinating between physical locations and remote team members can be tricky. Inconsistent technology experiences, scheduling headaches, and data security concerns? They're hindering your maximum collaboration potential. But what if these challenges were actually opportunities to leap ahead of the competition? Could addressing these issues give your organization a competitive edge in the new world of work?

How Unisys delivers value

Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms provides a comprehensive answer to the complexities of global business communication, offering a unified, secure, and efficient meeting experience.

- Centralized management: Real-time visibility and control over all meeting spaces globally
- Intelligent resource allocation: Automated optimization of A/V equipment, network bandwidth, and power consumption across all locations
- Seamless hybrid collaboration: Easy scheduling and connectivity between in-office and remote team members, with multi-platform integration for various video conferencing systems
- Enhanced security: Robust measures to protect sensitive client information
- 24/7 support: Round-the-clock assistance to ensure uninterrupted service

ROI potential

Implementing Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms can help accelerate your global operations into a new era of efficiency:

- Streamlined global collaboration with consistent, high-quality meeting experiences for in-office and remote participants
- Significant time and cost savings through improved efficiency, simplified scheduling, and reduced technical issues
- Enhanced security for sensitive client information, minimizing risk and potential financial losses from data breaches
- Increased success rate in client interactions due to improved presentation capabilities and seamless hybrid meetings
- Higher employee satisfaction and productivity, leading to improved talent retention and reduced recruitment costs

These transformations will ripple through your organization, strengthening your bottom line and sharpening your competitive edge in the global market. To learn more about how Unisys can help ensure your meeting rooms are ready for action, visit our website or contact us.
